MEMPHIS APPEAL.

PLAIN WORDS.

We find the following communication in the Avalanche of Saturday; and we place it in our columns that it may be as widely read as possible, and to say a few words in reply:

THE LATE DEMOCRATIC MEETING—A FEW SUGGESTIONS.

Editors Avalanche:

Having labored with all my might and spent not only my time but my money in the support and promotion of the aims and objects of the Democratic Conservative party since its organization after the war, I therefore feel that I am authorized to criticize the outcroppings of latent elements, which, if not speedily rebuked, will result in a total disruption of our local political organizations. I regret to see protruding the earmarks of a spirit of prejudice, engendered in the unhappy struggle from which we have just emerged, and it is time such crimination and recrimination should have been buried deep in the oblivion of the past, and that all true men should make common cause against the usurpation of the despoilers of our common country; a full meed of praise should be awarded to those honest yeomen, who have been found first and last at the register's office and always at the ballot-box, devoting their time and money in the support of the great Democratic principles, which award to all white men equal rights under the Constitution, and to hurl from power the Radical scalawags who, by stealth, have usurped the control not only of our county, but State and National Government, and break from the limbs of those who nobly battled for the liberty of the South the shackles which subordinate them to the ignorant and vicious African. Hence, it is exceedingly unfortunate that a few, who know not their A B C's in the manipulation of political organizations, should seem bent upon mischief, which will ultimately, if not sternly meet, alienate and drive from the field of active labor the men who have heretofore contributed most to the support of our cause, because men who have made the party what it is do not like to be superceded by a party of ultra Conservatives who have scarcely, as it were, taken off their swaddling garments, in a political point of view, and who, in their blind zeal and desire, as they say, to rule off the track "old political hacks," contribute more to the argumentation of the Radical party than they are aware of. The opposition of this faction to the resolution providing for the appointment of a county executive committee, is attributable either to a spirit fatally bent upon a usurpation of the control of our political organization or to a total want of information and experience in the discipline and management of political campaigns, and that the men upon whom we must rely at the ballot-box, will turn out and show ingrates that whilst their co-operation is and has always been desired they do not intend to be snubbed, ignored, and become the "hewers of wood and drawers of water" for those whose interest they have heretofore labored to promote. These suggestions are intended to awaken reflections which, ere it is too late, will work a reconciliation of the antagonistic elements which now threaten local disruptions, and I trust will serve as a finger-board to the fatal policy about to be inaugurated. It is hoped, furthermore, that all who love the principles of our party will turn out on Saturday afternoon, and organize a good executive committee, and, hand in hand with the club already organized, address themselves to the great struggle for not only political but individual liberty, and no man fears the result.

A VOTER.

For some weeks before the meeting of Wednesday evening last, it had been proposed to form a Democratic Club in this city. The Editor of the APPEAL had never had anything whatever to do with "the manipulation of political organizations" in Memphis, had never attended a political meeting, and did not desire to have any sort of control or influence in the interior workings of political affairs here. But when he was asked by leading Conservatives, to consent to accept the Presidency of the proposed Club, and assured that it was the general desire that he should do so, he did not feel at liberty obstinately to refuse, more especially as it seemed to be in the nature of a generous proposition from those who had always been Democrats, to put away out of sight all the old differences of opinion and give assurance that they should never be revived. No stronger promise of that could be given, than the selection by them of one who had all his life been a Whig, and had for a time belonged to the American or Know-Nothing organization, to be the President of a Democratic Club; and it was not fit that what was thus generously tendered should be refused.

Afterwards it was apprehended that if the Club were formed by a number of gentlemen merely associating themselves together, it might lead to discontents on the part of those not consulted, and who might desire office and consideration in the Club and elsewhere, and it was concluded that it would be better to organize it for the county, and at a public meeting called for the purpose; and at our request the meeting was called, by notice published in the APPEAL and AVALANCHE until the day of the meeting.

After the Club had been organized and the officers selected, one of the Vice-Presidents proposed that an Executive Committee for the county should be appointed, not to be a committee of the Club, but entirely unconnected with it. The President decided that the Club had no right or power to appoint such a committee; and the Club took a recess in order that the matter might be acted on by those present, as a meeting of citizens of the county under the call. The appointment of an Executive Committee was moved, and the meeting decided against it by a vote of 35 to 25. There was certainly no preconcerted action on the part of those who voted against it, for the proposition was not anticipated, and took them by surprise.

The mover of the proposition thought that the Executive Committee theretofore acting, had been superseded, or their functions had ceased, by the organization of the Club. That certainly never occurred to us. We suppose that nothing of the sort was the consequence of that organization, and that the Committee is still in the full possession of its powers and functions. We could not see why or by what right the members of it should be unceremoniously ousted by a public meeting not called for that purpose, and a new Committee appointed. That the Committee still exists is evident from the fact that Mr. Stewart calls a public meeting for to-day, as Chairman of it.

For these reasons we did not vote at all. It is true that Mr. Minor Merriwether opposed the appointment of an Executive Committee, on the ground that it ought to be displaced by the officers of the Club; but that was his single opinion, in which we and others did not concur. If we "know not our A. B. C.'s in the manipulation of political organizations," on which we rather congratulate ourselves, we are not "bent on mischief," and do not need to be "sternly met." Speaking for ourself, (and we think we can say so for the Club,) we do not propose or desire to supersede "the men who have heretofore contributed most in the support of our cause, the men who have made the party what it is." We do not desire to supersede or interfere with the Executive Committee, but to co-operate with it, if those "who have scarcely, as it were, taken off their swaddling garments, in a political point of view," may be deemed worthy to do so. As neither we nor the Club have any right or power to interfere with the Executive Committee, it would be folly to think of doing so. We can work, we suppose, side by side with it.

The communication of A Voter discloses more than was intended to be made manifest. No one can mistake the meaning of the words 'faction' and 'ingrates,' as applied to those who voted against appointing a new Executive Committee. We heard nothing said about ruling old political hacks off the track. No other considerations were urged against appointing the Committee, than those that were legitimate and unobjectionable. It was said that the consequence would be divided councils, and loss of efficiency and unity of action. Not a word was said about men.

So the animus that prompted the remark, that the opposition of this faction to the appointment of a Committee, "is attributable either to a spirit fatally bent upon a usurpation of the control of our political organization, or to a total want of information and experience in the discipline and management of political campaigns," is unintentionally manifest. Are there men here, then, who claim the exclusive right to "control our political organization," and to act independently of whom is usurpation?

It is intended to organize Democratic Clubs all over the State, to act in concert with each other. It is intended to establish Ward Clubs in Memphis, and District Clubs in Shelby county. It is intended to procure exact information of the number of Conservative and Radical voters in each county, and of the disfranchised who cannot vote. Nobody is intended to be ignored or snubbed, or made hewers of wood and drawers of water. Nobody was thinking about the Executive Committee, in any respect, until it was moved in the Club to elect one. If it has ceased to exist, it must have abdicated. The formation of the Club in no way affects it.

The tone of A Voter's communication is, we hope unintentionally, rude and offensive. Men who have the same right to work for the cause as others, and are as unselfish as others, and who have as much right as others to lead and control, if they can do it by honorable means, and perhaps are as fit to do so, should not be called, by those of their own faith, a faction, and ingrates, usurpers and ignorant.

For ourself, we shall be exceedingly glad if some one better acquainted with "the discipline and management of political campaigns" will relieve us of the labor and trouble which the Presidency of the Club must impose on one who has so little time to spare to attend to its duties. We have not the slightest desire to lead or manage or control anybody, and do not want or mean to be in hot water on account of any unwelcome office, which a sense of duty alone induced us to accept. We really did not know that there were any gentlemen here who claimed to be leaders. We were innocent enough to think that there were no jealousies, no rivalries, no ambitions; but that all were working together as equals, none having claim of right to the posts of leadership or the petty honors of political organizations. If there be such leaders, they would not be wise to display a splenetic discontent, if new men should for the moment be preferred to them. Men do not retain or regain power in that way.

Passing from that subject, in the hope that the Executive Committee and the officers of the Club will be able, as we certainly believe they will, to act harmoniously together, and that even A Voter will find that there was no necessity for his communication, we have a word to say on another subject.

We are quite aware that efforts have been made to prejudice our Irish fellow-citizens against the County Democratic Club, by representing it as a Know-Nothing organization. It is quite true that the President of the Club was a Know-Nothing; but that, like other things, is of the past. If Democrats are to ostracize those of the American party, they will ortracize; when they have the power, those who were Whigs. How then can there be a cordial union among Conservatives? We accept the name 'Democrat,' and we do it in good faith, and without mental reservation, for the sake of the country. When we accept the fellowship in politics, of men of foreign birth, we do so for all the future. When it is attempted to make the negro our equal, every white man opposed to that becomes our brother. We clasp hands with the Irishman, the Teuton, the Scotchman and the Italian, and the heart goes with the hand. That is enough for us to say; for we never say what we do not mean.

As to the Presidency of the Club, it is nothing. Any one is welcome to it; but whilewe hold it, we shall perform its duties. Let every one do that in his place and sphere, and pitiful jealousies be buried, and all be content to work where the people put them, and there may be hope of effecting something for the country.

—Five inquests were held in Chicago on the 2d, the cases being those of Delia McGlade, suicide; George Reynolds, who broke his neck by falling from a barn; Conrad Liehauser, who was kicked by a horse with fatal result; John Tracy, a boy who was drowned in the river, and a newly born infant whose body was found in the gutter.

—The Chinese have a wheelbarrow in common use which is an improvement upon our barrow. The wheel is in the middle. It is not uncommon to see a sail set on this wagon, and, if the wind is fair, they can make six miles an hour easy.

If the personal friends and admirers of the great Tennessean will subscribe liberally at once, the work can be delivered by November, 1868.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

ALBERT PIKE & CO.

Vera Atque Honesta Dicere.

For President of the United States,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.]

PLATFORM OF THE TENNESSEE DEMOCRACY.

1st. The Conservative men of Tennessee, putting aside all questions decided by the war, accept the title of 'Democrats,' and formally unite themselves with the Democratic party as it now exists.

2d. The question of the right of a State to secede from the Union has been decided by arms, and that decision should be accepted as final and conclusive.

3d. Nevertheless, while the Constitution makes the Federal Government supreme, it is so only with well defined limitations and restrictions, leaving the States large rights and powers over their domestic concerns, and making them coequal in respect of such rights; and these rights have not been impared by the result of the war, or the powers of the General Government aggrandized by it, to the endangerment of public liberty.

4th. The extinguishment of African Slavery is recognised as a fact, ratified by a binding Constitutional Amendment.

5th. The investiture of negroes with the right of suffrage, by the Congress of the United States, and the disfranchisement of white men, by the same authority, is a gross usurpation of power, and a policy unjust, unwise and oppressive, and tending to excite a war of races; the white men of America are entitled to superiority and supremacy in the administration of the Federal and State governments; and any measure intended to deprive them of it, or to divide or impair it, greatly endangers the perpetuity of free republican institutions.

6th. The faith of the nation is pledged to the payment of the national debt, according to the terms of the laws under which the bonds were issued, and not otherwise. The time of payment of the bonds ought not to be extended; the principal of the five-twenty bonds ought to be paid in currency, and the money granted to the National banks to be withdrawn.

7th. The Government bonds should be taxed in the hands of the bondholders, equally with other property.

8th. The doctrines and practices of the Radical party, which endeavors, by encroaching upon the powers of the Executive and Judicial branches of the Government, to absorb in the Legislative Department all powers, tend to the destruction of the Republican system of Government and the civil liberties of the people.

9th. Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever State or persuasion, religious or political; peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none; the support of the State Governments in all their rights, as the most competent administration of our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-Republican tendencies; the preservation of the General Government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of peace at home and safety abroad; a jealous care of the rights of election by the people and the supremacy of the civil over the military authority.

10th. Andrew Johnson the first choice of the Democracy of Tennessee; but their Delegates left free to unite in selecting another as the candidate for the Presidency.

THE unusual length of our telegraphic dispatches last night prevents our giving other news matter prepared for this morning's issue. President Johnson's letter in reply to a number of citizens of Kentucky, asking the use of his name before the Democratic Convention, now in session, for nomination for re-election to the Presidency, received by telegraph last night, is also unavoidably crowded out.

TENNESSEE.

—Profs. Leo Wheat and Henry Farmer gave a concert at Brownsville on the night of the 2d instant, which was largely attended, and elicited high encomiums from the audience. What else could be expected of our talented young townsmen?

—Brownsville has a chain-gang.

—Bishop Quintard, of this city, visits Brownsville on the 11th inst.

—The Brownsville Bee of the 3d says: It is suggested that a District Convention for the nomination of an elector for this, the Eighth District, be held in Brownsville on the 15th day of July. Calls to that effect, also for County Conventions in the various counties, will be issued by the Democratic papers of the District next week. By request of many leading Democrats in our midst, we call a Convention of the Democracy of Haywood County to assemble in Brownsville on Monday, 13th inst., to appoint delegates to the Convention at this place on the 15th.

—Pulaski is to have a magnificent City Hall 42 by 81 feet in size, 54 feet high in the clear. Brownsville needs one.

—Five thousand laborers will soon begin work on the Mississippi Central Railroad between Jackson and Milan, Tennessee.

—The Pulaski ladies have posted notices requesting gentlemen not to spit upon the church floors.

—Half the town of Pikeville, Tenn., was destroyed by fire last Wednesday.

—Gov. Brownlow has appointed the following gentlemen directors of the Tennessee and Pacific Railroad: Thomas Waters, Carthage; W. H. Goodwin, Lebanon; E. H. East, Nashville; O. P. Temple, Knoxville; E. Hopkins, Nashville; D. W. Peabody, Nashville; R. P. Eaton, Wood Hill, Roane county; Dr. D. B. Cliffe, Franklin; J. G. Ogden, Nashville; G. W. Anderson, White county; Wm. Rull, Knoxville; D. T. Boynton, Knoxville; Tag W. Newman, Winchester.

—A number of German emigrants from the East passed through Knoxville on the 1st, en route for Middle Tennessee. We understand they will locate in the vicinity of Murfreesboro.

—Wheat is being threshed throughout the country, and the reports as to the yield are quite contradictory. Some farmers, says the Fayetteville Observer, report a better result than they had anticipated, others worse. Rain is needed, gardens are suffering severely from drought, and the same may be said of corn, oats and hay.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, July 6.—The Senate to-day dropped its joint resolution ratifying the 16th amendment which was engrossed for a third reading, and took a recess.

In the House the resolution to the same purpose was concurred in and passed to its second reading.

In the Senate's Committee on Elections, which is composed of five Republicans and two Democrats, several passages at arms occurred to-day.

A bill was introduced in the House by Mr. McMillan, creating the office of State Printer, to whom shall be given the entire State and municipal printing.

The bill is denounced as a tremendous swindle. It provides that this official shall hold his office four years—two years longer than the Legislative term of office.

NEW YORK.

GREAT UNANIMITY IN THE CONVENTION.

Complimentary Resolution to Johnson and Chase.

Permanent Organization Effected.

Nominations to be made To-day

Memphis Credit Sustained.

Special Dispatch to the Memphis Appeal.]

NEW YORK, July 6.—Contrary to general expectation, there was more unanimity expressed in the action of the Convention to-day than was apparent on Saturday. Every resolution looking toward concord, and calculated to produce a harmonious result, was hailed with loud applause.

The resolution complimenting President Johnson on his patriotic course, and congratulating him on his victory over the impeachment conspirators, was received with jubilant cheers, amid which a resolution commending the course of Chief Justice Chase in the impeachment embroglio was introduced and carried.

The hours that have passed since the adjournment of the Convention on Saturday have been well improved by the friends of President Johnson and Judge Chase—a fact so well understood by the friends of Pendleton, that it was deemed necessary to strengthen the Ohio delegation with the name of Vallandigham, Thurman, Pugh and Gen. Morgan.

Policy as well as principle will guide the action of the Convention in the choice of standard-bearers to lead the party to victory.

When the report of the Committee on Permanent Organization was read, and the name of Horatio Seymour announced as permanent President of the Convention, the audience and delegates arose and united in enthusiastic cheering that lasted fully five minutes. He was conducted to the Chair by ex-Gov. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, and Gen. Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, amid the most hearty applause.

A. O. P. Nicholson represents Tennessee among the Vice-Presidents, and Henry C. McLaughlin, of the Murfreesboro Monitor, is one of the Secretaries.

Outsiders are much surprised that there was no contest over the adoption of the rules, which done was by a unanimous vote.

By resolution of Mr. Nelson, the Committee on Grievances, from Tennessee, were invited on the floor, and will, before the adjournment of the Convention, present a report which does justice to the present anomalous state of things in Tennessee. Judge Brown is chairman of the Committee, and author of the memorial.

The deliberations of the Convention were interrupted by the reading of a letter from Susan B. Anthony, in which she said that the difference in sex should not be an insurmountable obstacle to the accomplishment of woman suffrage, a point that was not lost in the Convention, judging by the uproarious laughter with which it was greeted.

The Committee on Platforms will report at 4 p.m., when balloting for President will probably commence.

In a conversation with Alderman McDavitt to-day, he stated that he felt assured that the Memphis city bonds are regarded with much favor by New York capitalists, and are not likely to be affected by the action of Gov. Brownlow in the matter of the interest on the State bonds.

SECOND DISPATCH.

EVENING SESSION.

TAMMANY HALL, NEW YORK, July 6. At the evening session of the Convention the Committee on Platform failed to report, and asked for further time, when it was proposed to amend the resolution passed at the morning session, compelling the committee to report before proceeding to ballot for candidates for President and Vice-President. This occasioned no little amount of skirmishing, during which resolutions and counter resolutions were introduced and voted on with varying results until 6:10 p.m., when the Convention adjourned until 10 a.m. to-morrow. The Committee on Platforms will then report and balloting immediately follow.

The Convention still manifests a desire for a well considered nomination.

THE DEMOCRACY OF HARDEMAN IN CONVENTION.

The Murder Rumor Contradicted.

Special Dispatch to Memphis Appeal.]

BOLIVAR, July 6.—The Democracy of Hardeman met in convention to-day and appointed a full list of delegates to the District Convention, which meets in Brownsville on the 15th, for the purpose of selecting an elector for the Eighth Congressional District, and if needs be, a candidate for Congress.

The meeting was harmonious. J. J. Polk, Esq., was chosen Chairman. The Democracy of Hardeman will organize for the fight against Radicalism next Thursday.

The rumored kidnapping and murder of Judge Fielding Hurst, of McNairy, published in the Nashville Banner of the 3d, is discredited here.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The police arrangements on Fourteenth street were inadequate to keep back the surging crowd, which so blocked up the passage to Tammany Hall that the delegates and reporters had much difficulty in entering. Owing to this, it was fully half-past ten before the delegates were generally in their seats.

The Convention was called to order at thirty-five minutes past ten o'clock, by the temporary Chairman. Prayer was offered by Rev. William Quinn, of New York. The reading of Saturday's journal was dispensed with.

Mr. Richardson, of Illinois, presented a series of resolutions, which were referred without reading.

Clymer, of Pennsylvania, from the Committee on Permanent Organization, reported as follows: For President, Hon. Horatio Seymour, of New York, [great cheering]; and one Vice-President and Secretary from each State. It was also recommended that the rules of the Democratic Convention of 1864 be adopted for the government of this Convention.

Mackey, of Ohio, moved the adoption of the report and the discharge of the Committee.

A delegate from Florida inquired whether, on the adoption of this report the two-thirds rule on balloting for Presidential candidate would require for a nomination two-thirds of the entire Convention, or two-thirds of the vote to be cast in the Electoral College.

The Chairman put the question on the acceptance of the report and discharge of the committee, which was decided in the affirmative, and the committee discharged.

Mr. Murphy, of New York, from the Committee on Resolutions, asked permission for said committee to sit during the sessions of the Convention, which was agreed to.

The Chair appointed Bigler, of Pennsylvania, and Hammond, of South Carolina, a committee to conduct the permanent President to the chair. Mr. Seymour proceeded to the platform amid great cheering and loud and continued applause, and said in brief he returned thanks, counselled moderation, toleration and harmony. He said the most important questions are forced upon the consideration of this Convention. Some of these were forced upon it by the resolutions of the late Chicago Convention. He discussed briefly the Republican platform; accused that party of violating its own declarations against repudiation and equal taxation and then asserting solicitude for soldiers' and sailors' widows and orphans. He accused the now dominant party of extravagant wasting of public monies, tainting the national credit, impeding immigration by overburdening labor with taxation, and breaking the guaranties of Republican liberty. He denied the assertion of the Republican Convention, that the principles of the Declaration of Independence are now held sacred on every inch of American soil; for in ten States of the Union military power suppresses the civil law.

Gov. Seymour closed amid great cheering.

The following are the Vice-Presidents and Secretaries, the first named from each State being the Vice-President: Alabama, Reuben Chapman, W. A. Lowe; Arkansas, B. Turner, John W. Wright; California, Hon. A. H. Rose, M. J. Gillett; Connecticut, H. A. Hull, Geo. D. Hastings; Delaware, Geo. H. Cummins, Curtis W. Wright; Florida, Thos. Randall, C. H. Smith; Georgia, Hon. A. R. Dawson, G. M. Reilly; Rhode Island, M. Sprague, E. Bronson; South Carolina, B. F. Perry, W. S. Mullins; Tennessee, A. O. P. Nicholson, Henry C. McLaughlin; Texas, A. Smith, Daniel A. Vinch; Vermont, Harvey Keiss, Geo. H. Simmons; Virginia, Robt. H. Conrad, Wm. D. Coleman; West Virginia, Jas. M. Gallagher, C. A. Sperry; Wisconsin, Ex-Gov. Nelson Dewey, E. T. Thorne.

For Recording Secretaries—E. O. Perrin, New York; Moses M. Strong, Wisconsin; A. Gungoln, Georgia; F. M. Hutcson, Pennsylvania; and Robt. P. Tawney, Illinois.

Sergeant-at-Arms—Edward A. Morse, New York.

The Committee also recommends that the rules and regulations of the National Democratic Convention of 1864 be adopted by the Convention for the government of its proceedings.

[Signed] HEISTER CLYMER, Chairman.

WM. H. MORRISON, Secretary.

Bigler, of Pennsylvania, submitted a series of resolutions which were referred without reading.

The resolutions of the State Convention of Pennsylvania were also referred without reading.

Nelson, of Tennessee, moved the admission of the delegates from the Democratic Convention of that State, who were appointed to memorialize this body in reference to the grievances of the people there under Radical rule. Adopted.

Additional resolutions were received and referred to the Committee on Resolutions, from California and New York, by Hon. Erastus Brooks and from Pennsylvania, resolutions from the National Labor Convention were sent up and read, favoring the payment of public and private debts in greenbacks, which were received with great cheering; as also was one against further grants of public lands to private corporations, and favoring their restoration, for distribution among actual settlers.

Letters were read, amid great laughter, from Susan B. Anthony, of the Woman's Suffrage Association, urging the claims of women to participate in elections. Referred.

Tilden, of New York, offered resolutions admitting the delegates from the Territories to honorary seats in the Convention. Agreed to.

The Chairman of the Committee on Credentials reported that full delegations were present from every State in the Union, and recommended that three delegates from each Territory and the District of Columbia be admitted to the floor without the privilege of voting.

Cox, of New York, moved to amend it so as to admit the entire delegation from the District last named.

A delegate from California moved the admission of the delegates from the Territories to all the privileges of the Convention, except that each Territory shall have but one vote, which was rejected and the Committee report adopted.

Kerr, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution that it was the duty of every friend of Constitutional Government to sustain the President in his effort to stem the tide of Radical usurpation, and commending him for his course. [Cheers] The resolution was referred.

Fenton, of Kansas, offered a resolution, citing that the National flag should protect adopted citizens everywhere the same as it does the native born. [Cheers.] Referred.

Wright, of Delaware, offered a resolution providing for a committee of one from each State, to constitute a National Executive Committee. Adopted.

Hall, of New York, offered a resolution declaring that the thanks of the nation are due to Chief Justice Chase for his ability, impartiality and fidelity to his constitutional duty in presiding over the court of impeachment, which, after prolonged shouts, was referred.

Randall, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution in favor of increasing the pensions to soldiers and sailors by paying them in gold or its equivalent. [Slight applause.] Referred.

Reed, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution recognizing the fidelity of Andrew Johnson in upholding the Constitution and laws. Referred.

On the motion of Richardson, of Illinois, it was ordered that each State report its number of the National Executive Committee by to-morrow morning.

Hurley, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution directing that the President's Amnesty Proclamation be read by the Secretary.

A vote was taken and the resolution appeared to be lost, and the Chairman was about to put the question again, when Brooks, of New York, moved to amend the proposition so as to simply declare that this Convention approves of the proclamation, which was carried.

Cox, of New York, offered a resolution approving of the action of Massey in the Kossits case, by which a declaration to become a citizen of the United States would secure to the —— citizen the same national protection as if his naturalization was actually completed.

Bigler moved to nominate a candidate for President of the United States. [Cheers.]

Brewer, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution of thanks to the temporary Chairman, which were adopted amid applause.

Phillips, of Missouri, offered the following:

Resolved, That the delegates to this Convention pledge themselves in advance to support its nominees.

The Chair stated the question to be on Bigler's resolution; and Hutchison, of Missouri, moved to amend by substituting a resolution that no steps be taken towards the nomination of a candidate for the present, until after a platform shall have been presented and adopted, and the vote on this amendment was ordered to be taken by a call of States.

Bigler explained that his proposition was not to proceed now to balloting for a candidate, but simply looking to putting candidates before the Convention, and expressed himself in favor of adopting the platform, prior to any balloting.

The votes by States was then taken on the amendment, and at the conclusion of the call, New York asked leave to retire for consultation, but the Chair decided that 160—more than half of the votes—had been cast in the affirmative, and that the amendment had been adopted.

Belmont, of New York, then offered a resolution of thanks to the Tammany Society of New York, for the use of their new hall, and their courtesies and assistance to the Convention. Adopted.

Garretson offered a resolution declaring as the sense of the Convention that in future Democratic Conventions a majority of votes should effect a nomination. [Slight applause.] Referred.

Spalding, of Kentucky, offered a resolution that the parties put in nomination before this Convention should be pledged by their friends to support its ticket and platform. Referred.

A delegate from Kentucky moved to request the President of the United States to issue a proclamation of universal amnesty.

Dawson, of Pennsylvania, asked for immediate action on this resolution, and it was adopted with but a few dissenting votes.

Schwartz, of Missouri, offered a resolution in regard to finances and taxation, which was referred.

Reeves, of Indiana, offered a resolution providing that a five minutes recess shall be taken in every case, before the roll is called on any question, the vote upon which, by States, is ordered.

Crawford, of Nebraska, offered a resolution condemning the reconstruction acts of Congress. Referred.

Emerson, of Missouri, offered a resolution calling upon the Committee on Resolutions to report a platform at the earliest moment possible.

Stuart, of Michigan, a member of the committee, said he hoped this would not be adopted, as the committee were industriously at work, and would report as soon as practicable.

Preston, of Kentucky, also a member, said they hoped to be able to report a platform to the Convention to-night.

Vallandigham, as a privileged motion, moved that when the Convention adjourn, it be to meet again at 3 o'clock, which was modified by substituting 4 o'clock, and in that form was adopted.

Wm. M. Tweed, Henry A. Richmond; North Carolina, Bradford Brown, Dr. R. B. Haywood; Ohio, E. B. Bowles, John Hamilton; Oregon, Bristow A. Fitch; Pennsylvania, John L. Dawson, G. M. Reilly; Rhode Island, M. Sprague, E. Bronson; South Carolina, B. F. Perry, W. S. Mullins; Tennessee, A. O. P. Nicholson, Henry C. McLaughlin; Texas, A. Smith, Daniel A. Vinch; Vermont, Harvey Keiss, Geo. H. Simmons; Virginia, Robt. H. Conrad, Wm. D. Coleman; West Virginia, Jas. M. Gallagher, C. A. Sperry; Wisconsin, Ex-Gov. Nelson Dewey, E. T. Thorne.

Bawce, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution expressing national gratitude to Andrew Johnson for his patriotic course, and asked its immediate consideration; but objection being made, the resolution was referred.

Richardson, of Illinois, moved that the resolutions now on the President's table, be referred without reading, which was adopted, and the Convention adjourned until 4 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

On the appearance of the President upon the platform, he was greeted with three cheers by the audience.

The President—"The Secretary will read to the Convention this letter, just received by the chair."

The Secretary then read the following:

"NEW YORK, July 6, 1868.

"My Dear Sir: A committee of Conservative soldiers and sailors from the Convention now in session in this place, desires to present itself to the Convention of which you are President, with an address in answer to the invitation to the privileges of the floor, and it will be glad to be received as soon as it is convenient to the Convention.

"Very respectfully, yours,
[Signed] "W. B FRANKLIN,
"President."

To Hon. Horatio Seymour, President National Democratic Convention.

Woodward, of Pennsylvania—"I move that a committee of five be appointed to wait upon the committee of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention, and with them to come upon the floor. Adopted.

The following is said Committee: Mr. Woodward, of Pennsylvania, Gen. McCook, of Ohio, Mr. Miller, of Nebraska, Gen. Richardson, of Illinois, and Mr. Steele, of California.

Gen. McCook asked to be excused from serving, as he was about to leave, and suggested Gen. G. W. Morgan in his place. Adopted.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention, headed by the flag borne by Sergeant Bates, was received with loud cheers, the delegates rising.

Brewer, of Pennsylvania, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That no gentleman shall be declared the nominee of this Convention for President of the United States unless he shall receive two-thirds of all the votes cast.

Vallandigham—I rise to a point of order. Already this Convention has adopted the two-thirds rule, and this motion is superlative. The resolution passed by this Convention adopts the rules of the Convention of 1864.

Brewer—I do not desire debate, but simply say—

Vallandigham—I rise to a point of order, that a point of order is not debatable.

At the suggestion of the President the resolution was withdrawn to allow the Chair to be heard on this point.

Woodward, of Pennsylvania, presented a communication from the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention. They were requested to take places upon the platform.

President—The Chair has the honor to present to the Convention General Franklin, as one who represents here the Conservative Soldiers and Sailors of our country who desire peace, union and fraternal regard.

Gen. Franklin—I have been deputed by the Conservative Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention to present to you the Committee. This Committee has for its Chairman Gen. A. H. Slocum, of this State, and it has prepared an address which it now desires to make to the members of this Convention.

Col. O'Brien read the address as follows:

To the National Convention:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention: We are instructed by a unanimous vote of this Convention of Union Soldiers and Sailors now in session at Cooper Institute, to return to you our thanks for extending to us the privileges on the floor of your Convention. The objects for which we are assembled are clearly set forth in the address of our presiding officer. Our Convention is composed of 2000 members, elected from every State and Territory of the Union, who have served in the Union army or navy, every one of whom believes that in co operating at this time with the Conservative party of the country, he is still engaged in the same cause for which he risked his life during the war, viz: to preserve the Union and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution. We believe that the crimes now being perpetrated in the name of the Republic are not less alarming than those committed by armed foes of the Government during the war. The party now in power have destroyed equality of the States and forced the Southern States to submit to have their Constitutions and laws framed by ignorant negroes, just released from slavery, while at the North it has denied the negro the right of suffrage, although comparatively educated; and attempted to influence the highest tribunal of the land, by calling meetings of excited partizans to condemn all members of the Court who might refuse to act in accordance with their declaration, while all the leading journalists of the party since the close of the impeachment trial, have denounced and villified in unmeasured terms, going so far in some instances as to threaten personal violence, and for no other reason than that they were unwilling to perjure themselves at the behest of their party. It has freely removed political disabilities from men of the South who, before and during the war were the most violent and malignant rebels, but have since become the sycophants of the party in power; while it persecutes those in the same localities who have always been true to the Union, but are unwilling to be ruled by their recently emancipated slaves. At the North it has denied official positions to hundreds of veterans of the war, most of whom are disabled by wounds received in battle, while it has hoisted into place partizans of its own, having no claims on the Government, many of whom, fortunately for the country, have, during the past few months, become inmates of penitentiaries. It has placed the General of the armies beyond the control of the President of the United States, to whom the Constitution makes him subordinate. It has nominated him for President, and the events of the last four months indicate that, by the use of the army under his supreme control, there is a determination to cause the electoral votes of the Southern States to be cast for himself through force and fraud. We solemnly declare our convictions that the free institutions of the country have never been in greater jeopardy than at this time, and that we look to the deliberations of the Democratic party, now in council assembled, with the deepest anxiety, feeling that on its action depends the future prosperity of our country. We earnestly trust and believe that no deviation or adherence to past issues will be permitted to endanger the success of the great party to which the country now looks with anxious eye for permanent peace and the perpetuity of our institutions. We believe that there are nearly half a million of men who stand in the Union army and navy who are in sympathy and in judgment opposed to the acts of the party in power, and at least another half million who have heretofore acted with the Radical party, but who, reviewing with alarm the recent acts of the party, are now anxious for a change of administration, with a platform of principles reviving no dead issues, and looking only to the arrest of existing evils, and with candidates whose fidelity to the Constitution and devotion to the country cannot be questioned, we shall co-operate with you in this campaign with an enthusiasm and confidence that will bring victory and salvation to the country.

At the conclusion of this address three cheers were given for the soldiers and sailors, and a call was made for Thomas Ewing, Jr., of Ohio, who was introduced to the Convention and greeted with great applause. He made a strong speech.

W. D. Bowdle, of California, offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the address of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention just read, be received and entered upon the minutes of our proceedings and become a part of the proceedings of this Convention.

After considerable filibustering the Convention at 6:15 adjourned until 10 a.m. to-morrow, when the platform will be reported, after which balloting will commence.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' CONVENTION.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The various delegations having paraded in procession, as announced, from their headquarters at Moffatt Mansion, passed the new Tammany Hall to Cooper Institute, and arrived at the great hall of the Cooper Union at a quarter to twelve, and torn and tattered battle-flags from nearly every field of strife of the late war were present, and prefacing the entrance of the delegations, and in their rear arrived various delegations. During the filing of delegations and the taking seats of the officers of the Convention, the various bands by preconcerted arrangement played a pot pouri of music—of "Hail Columbia" and "Rally Round the Flag"—and cheers were given. Flags were dipped, shouts of applause rent the air, and Beckam was epitomized. Still there was an unanimity in even confusion, and such names as McClellan, Hancock, Packer and Slocum were greeted with applause.

The Secretary, Col. O'Brien, then read the rules of order as reported by the Committee on Resolutions.

They provide that the resolutions offered by delegates shall be read and referred, without debate, to the Committee on Resolutions, and announced by the chairman of each delegation, and also the number of votes to which it is entitled in the electoral college.

Gen. Pratt then offered a resolution to the effect that a Committee of One from each State shall be appointed to decide upon the expediency of making a nomination for a Presidential candidate in the National Convention. Referred.

A resolution was then offered that all speeches, motions, etc., shall be made from the floor, so as to avoid the undue prominence gained by the members upon the platform, which, after an amendment allowing the officers of the Convention to speak from the platform, was carried.

Gen. Slocum, of New York, from the Committee on Resolutions, reported that the Committee was not yet prepared to report its draft of a platform, and reported an address to the National Democratic Convention in response to an invitation to the floor of that body, and declaring the objects of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention to be the same as those which animated them during the war, deploring Radical legislation, denouncing the apostacy of the men who were once Democrats, censuring the proscription of loyal men at the South, and declaring Gen. Grant a renegade.

A motion was made that the report just read should be accepted, and a Committee of Twenty-one be appointed to present the same to the National Democratic Convention, was carried unanimously.

A motion to reconsider it was lost, and the appointing of the Committee was left to the Chair who named Gens. Slocum, Granger, Pratt, Ewing, Mitchell, Averill, Brown, Kilby, McClernand, Walker, Kingsley, Bradbury, Drake, Burney and Parker.

A resolution indorsing the Amnesty Proclamation and the general policy of President Johnson, was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

Another commending Gen. Hancock and Hon. Thomas Hendricks for candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States; but pledging their support to whatever nominees that the National Convention should select.

Also one expressing sympathy for Americans confined in foreign prisons, and demanding a speedy settlement of the Alabama claims, were sent to the committee.

This resolution was followed by a scene of much confusion—cries of "motion," "order," "Mr. Chairman," etc., followed each other in riotous disregard of Parliamentary rules, amid which a motion to adjourn was offered, upon which the vote of States was taken, which motion being lost, a motion that the Chairman of each delegation appoint a Sergeant-at-Arms to assist the Chair in keeping order, was carried.

Under a suspension of the rules, Gen. McQuade addressed the Convention, advocating order, deliberation and decorum; stating that there doubtless were men present who had been sent by organizations representing opposite parties, and whose sole object was to make disturbance. He therefore moved that a call of States be taken, and the resolutions therefrom be read by their respective Chairmen, in their order, and be referred at once to the Committee on Resolutions. Which motion was unanimously adopted.

Under a suspension of the rules the call of States was then made for the purpose of naming a Sergeant at-Arms for each delegation, and their names announced. Then followed the call of States for resolutions, in accordance with McQuade's resolution. Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire had none to offer.

Massachusetts offered a resolution that no more than one member from each delegation be allowed to speak on any subject, until some other State had been heard from.

New York offered a resolution declaring the right of naturalized citizens of the United States abroad entitled to the protection of the American Government; and another protesting against the uniform neglect with which soldiers and sailors had been treated in the distribution of civil offices, and appointing a Committee to correspond with the Democratic nominee, to request for the soldiers and sailors a share in the government patronage.

New Jersey offered a resolution providing that the Chairman shall designate the place upon the floor for each delegation, and that each Sergeant-at-Arms shall control his own delegation. The rules were suspended and the resolution passed.

New Jersey also offered one making the adjournment of the Convention till 3 p.m of the same day.

Maryland reported a resolution that if greenbacks were good enough for soldiers and sailors they were good enough for the pampered bondholders.

Delaware offered a resolution declaring the apostacy of the Radical party and the consequent adherence of the soldiers and sailors to the Democratic nominee.

Ohio declared as its wish that peace should be speedily restored, by a change in the dominant party.

Indiana, through the chairman of its delegation, stated that it had had a surfeit of resolutions, and therefore had none to offer.

Illinois asserted the wrongfulness of taxation without representation, as imposed upon the Southern States by the present Congress.

A resolution was received out of order, that no more resolutions be offered, and under a suspension of the rules, its passage was proposed but voted down.

A resolution from Missouri naming Gen. Butler was received with hisses, and when read, proposed to be a declaration that he should never be allowed to join the Democratic party.

Another was offered advocating the speedy withdrawal of the national currency and the substitution of greenbacks.

Kansas reported a resolution favoring a mass-meeting of soldiers and sailors for Tuesday morning, and that the soldiers of the late Confederacy be invited to attend.

A resolution directing the various Sergeants-at-Arms to report after the close of the Convention, was carried.

Under a suspension of the rules it was announced that the Committee to present an address of the Convention to the National Democratic Convention would meet at Moffatt's Building at 3:30 p.m. and the Executive Committee at the same place at 5 p.m.

The call of States then continued, and Iowa offered a resolution giving a vote of thanks to Gen. John A. McClernand, and three cheers were given for him.

Michigan recommended a military nominee for President, but agreed to indorse whatever patriotic statesman may be nominated, and affirming the integrity of the Union.

Maine offered a resolution denying its vote to any man who declared, during its progress, that the war was wrong; another, denouncing the prostitution of public funds to electioneering purposes; another, indorsing Gen. Hancock.

At this the band struck up a stirring air, and cheers were given for Gen. Hancock.

A resolution was offered, comparing the extra allowance to soldiers of $33 per annum to $2000 to members of Congress as showing Radical appreciation of military service.

The District of Columbia offered a resolution declaring that the Southern election returns had been manipulated to suit the necessities of the Radicals, and denouncing such mutilations; and one declaring against inflicting on them by Congress, against their will, negro suffrage.

Alaska was called, but if its delegates were present they were speechless.

The call of States was then concluded.

A motion that when the Convention adjourn it adjourn to 10 a.m. Tuesday, was carried.

A resolution of thanks to the National Executive Committee, for ample accommodations furnished, for the Convention, was read and carried.

Under a suspension of the rules, the Convention adjourned at 3:15 p.m.

CONGRESSIONAL.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The currency bill was postponed until Thursday.

Boutwell from the Judiciary Committee, reported a substitute for the Senate's bill authorizing the temporary supplying of vacancies caused by death, resignation, absence or sickness, in the various branches of the executive departments, which passed.

The other proceedings were unimportant.

The Committee on Commerce were instructed to inquire into the expediency of repealing the law requiring the use of the lock safety valves on steamers. Adopted.

Donnelly introduced a bill to equalize the taxation and reduce the interest on the public debt. It directs the Treasury to charge ten per cent. on the interest of the United States bonds. The bill went over.

A bill was passed requiring bridges across the Ohio to have 500 feet span. (This does not include the Louisville bridge.)

A claim of $10,000 was allowed to B. S. Morin, who caused the arrest of John Surratt.

Two resolutions, inquiring into the arrest of civilians by the military, were referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Washburn, of Massachusetts, reported a bill for the distribution of the $100,000 offered by the President for the capture of Jefferson Davis, which went over.

John R. French, John T. Dewees and Alex. H. Jones, members elect from North Carolina, were then sworn in.

SENATE.

The Chair submitted the resolutions of the North Carolina Legislature ratifying the 14th amendment.

Trumbull called up the bill to prescribe the oath of office to be taken by persons from whom the legal disabilities have been removed, which was passed.

Yates called up the bill to amend the act relative to the establishment of a territorial government for New Mexico, and giving the Legislature the right to overrule, by the two-thirds rule, the Governor's veto, which passed.

The tax bill was then taken up, and an order for an evening session during the pending of the bills, was adopted.

NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, July 6.—Gov. Brownlow has issued a proclamation convening the Legislature in extra session on the 27th instant. It is understood that the chief reason for this is the necessity of doing something relative to the bonds of the State.

Judge Trigg to-day dismissed the suit of citizens of Kentucky for an injunction restraining the issue of State bonds to the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad, for want of jurisdiction. An appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States has been taken.

—The hail storm of last Friday seems to have done a good deal of damage. We hear of it in Knox and other counties north of the Tennessee river, where the fall of hail was tremendous. At Lenoirs, Roane county, the corn and oats were much injured; also in the Sweetwater Valley. In this immediate neighborhood the storm was less severe, and no damage was done that we have heard of.—Athens Post, July 3.

NOTICE.

City subscribers to the APPEAL, daily or weekly, who may desire to leave the city for the summer, can have their papers sent them regularly by having a memorandum at the Counting-room of the APPEAL, No. 13 Jefferson street.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Correspondents who wish to have any attention paid to their communications must observe the following rules:

Be brief, concise and to the point, avoid the "flowers of rhetoric," and confine yourself to a plain statement of facts. Write on but one side of the paper in a clear hand, and with pen and ink, giving your words and sentences plenty of room. In all cases the real name and address of the writer must accompany the manuscript. Articles which redound to personal or individual benefit, or are of a personal nature, will only be inserted as "advertisements" or "paid cards."

COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT.—The pupils of the Stella Academy have tendered a complimentary concert to Miss Lottie Downing, their teacher, and the affair is to come off on Thursday evening, July 16th, at the Memphis Club Hall.

RETURNED.—Fifty men of the 25th United States Infantry, details of companies C and D, under command of Maj. Christopher, returned to the city last evening from Meridian, Miss., where they have been assisting in the election at that point.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday during the afternoon we had several showers, accompanied by considerable lightning and thunder, after which the sun shone out from the breaks in the clouds with a fierceness which was almost unbearable. From appearances the rain has been general.

AUCTION.—Notice! Strauss & Blum, No. 213 Main street, are in receipt of a large stock of clothing and dry goods on consignment from Eastern cities, which must be closed out at auction within the next four days. All desirous of securing bargains will find it to their advantage to attend these sales. 2:

TO BOOT AND SHOEMAKERS.—We are requested by our friends of the Panola Star to publish the following:

Wanted.—Panola and Batesville want a first-class boot and shoemaker, of purely Democratic principles. No matter whether he is white or black, we are authorized to say that such an one will be liberally supported.

HEALTH OF THE CITY.—Memphis was never healthier at this season of the year than at present, notwithstanding rumors and reports in the country to the contrary. Some of the stories that come to us from the line of the Memphis and Charleston road are absurd and ridiculous, and to put them at rest refer the retailers of them to our mortuary report for the past week.

WRONG CREDIT.—The West Tennessee Whig, in copying the item which appeared in the APPEAL several days ago, concerning the murder at Milan, credits it to the Nashville Banner. We do not blame the Whig, because the item was no doubt taken by it from the Banner, which paper took it from the APPEAL and forgot to credit it—something that the Banner has done several times of late.

EMMONS & SON, No. 10 Jefferson street, and 393 Main street, have received assorted sizes of Conants Binders, Days' Doings, German Leslie, Sporting Times, Saturday Night, Record, Italian Paper, Army and Navy Journal, Welcome Guest, Die Welt, (German), Album, Waverly, and the dailies as usual, and De Witt's Dime Novel No. 23. Do you hear that, boys?

PHOTOGRAPHIC.—We were shown yesterday some very handsome carte de visite photographs, made by Mr. Y. Day, photographer, whose atelier is at No. 338 Main street. The figures were excellently posed, and the outlines were clear, sharp and distinct. The work was finished in a style that would do credit to the best ateliers of many cities far more pretentious than ours. Indeed there is a certain something about pictures made in this region that we find lacking in the best photographs of Northern cities—owing, we suppose, to some peculiarity of the light. Parties desiring a first-class picture of any sort would do well to give Mr. Day a call.

ST. MARY'S PICNIC.—"Mark how plain a tale shall put you down." On Saturday afternoon at the picnic at the Ford Place, two little misses of our acquaintance, whose veracity is as unimpeachable as that of the "ladies" who signed Father Schneider's card—nay, as the veracity of Father Schneider himself, went to the table nearest the gate and asked for a drink of water. It was given them and they went off, but dancing and moving around in warm work, and after a while they returned and asked for another drink, which was refused them in these words: "My husband says that he has to pay for the water, and you can't have it except at five cents a glass." The little misses not having the five cents, were compelled to go off to the house of a neighbor to get the coveted drink of water.

Some months ago there arrived in Mobile from the "land of the Sun," along with the last batch of those ill fated men who followed the fortunes of the unhappy Maximilian, a man who was known as Dr. Ravelle. He bore letters of introduction to several prominent citizens of Mobile—among whom, if we mistake not, was our old friend Maj. Henry St. Paul, editor-in-chief of the Mobile Daily Times. The "Doctor" was received with that open-handed, open-hearted cordiality for which Mobile is famous, and was, to a certain extent, made a lion of. He professed himself wonderfully pleased with the city, and put an advertisement in the daily papers, announcing that he intended to make it his permanent home, and hung out his sign as a Professor of Modern Languages and Music. In this "ad." he signed himself "G. Heuveldop de la Ravelle, M. D., late physician to the Empress Carlotta." He also announced himself as about giving a series of lectures on "Mexico, and what I saw there."

How long he remained in Mobile, how much music or language he taught there or how much he lectured, we have no means at hand of finding out; but the next thing we heard of the Doctor, we saw him announced in the Vicksburg papers as about to deliver a lecture there on "Mexico, and what I saw there." In this announcement he was "Dr. Gerard de la Ravelle, the private Surgeon to the Empress Carlotta." The papers all gave him good "locals," and until the night of the lecture came, "everything was lovely and the goose hung high." Tickets were sold to the entertainment, and at the appointed hour for the lecture the Doctor came on the platform in a beastly state of intoxication, and announced himself too drunk to lecture that night. Whether the ticket-money was refunded or not, we have forgotten, but the next morning the papers came out and gave him "scissors." They took back all they had said about him in their previous issues, and denounced him as a vagabond, dead beat, etc., and warned the press everywhere against him.

We received and read the papers containing these announcements one evening, perhaps a month ago, and the very next day we found on our desk a little note from the "Doctor" announcing his distinguished presence among us, and inclosing a note of introduction to us from a friend of ours on a morning contemporary. The Doctor did not call on us again that day, or the next, but we heard from several parties that he was on the hip-la, drunk, and raising old Harry around town. The next morning he called to see us, and was received in such a manner as not to warrant him in calling again. We, however, saw him, and heard him quite 'extensively' that night, on a most tremendous spree. The lecture which he was announced, in the other morning papers, to give, did not come off, and one fine morning we found that the Doctor had "folded his tent, like the Arab, and silently stolen away," leaving several barkeepers and others to mourn his untimely departure. We next heard of him through the Grenada Sentinel, our friend Signaigo "going for him" in a most savage manner; then through the Nashville papers; then through various country exchanges—all singing the same old tune, "Oh, had I never, never seen thee!" In all of his wanderings, however, he was the "physician to Carlotta," and was ever announcing to come off a lecture on "Mexico and what I saw there," and though altering the affixes, his name was always "Ravelle."

Now comes the closing scene. Through all his career, so far as we have been able to watch it, (except in one instance, of which we may have occasion to speak at another time, and in another manner,) he has simply acted the "dead beat," and hitherto managed to keep out of the clutches of the law, but now we find him in Huntsville, Ala., playing a new role, which is thus described by the Independent of the 4th inst.:

We stated in our paper yesterday morning that a stranger had been arrested on a charge of stealing a purse from Mrs. L. N. Sweet, of Nashville. We did not mention his name then, because we did not wish to publish his name if the charge should prove false.

The stranger mentioned arrived here on Sunday night last, and gave his name as Gerard Heuveldop, a Swiss gentleman of education. He said he was well educated, and could speak several different languages, as well as perform on the piano, guitar, etc., and proposed to teach all those. He called on several of the principals of the schools, and applied for a position as teacher, but was told by each to wait until the opening of the fall session, and, in the meantime, they would take his application into consideration. He represented himself as being hard-up in finances, and secured a loan of small amounts from several citizens who sympathized with him. He told each that he had been living at St. Thomas, where he had amassed a fortune, but lost it by an earthquake which occurred there a short time ago, all of which was doubtless false. On Tuesday evening last, he called on Mrs. S. at the hotel, and she, having occasion to leave the parlor for a few moments, left her purse, containing about $50, on the sofa, and when she returned, lo! and behold, it was gone. As no one had been in the parlor except Heuveldop, he was suspected of course, and detectives were put on his track to watch him. He had a high old time that night, and spent money freely. He was arrested during the night, and lodged in the calaboose, on a charge of stealing. The trial was commenced before Mayor Clapp on Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, but before the witnesses could be examined, it had grown so late, that the trial was postponed until Friday morning, at 9 o'clock. Gen. L. P. Walker represented the prosecution, and Col. Nich. Davis the defense. During the trial at the Mayor's office on Thursday afternoon, and the Courtroom yesterday, there was a very large crowd in attendance, who evinced great interest in the trial. Both parties were comparative strangers in the city, and the crowd naturally and properly sympathized with the lady. A number of witnesses were examined, both to show the guilt of the prisoner, and invalidate the testimony of Mrs. S. The case was ably argued on both sides. The Mayor took the case, and decided immediately to hold the prisoner in a bond of $500 to appear at the next term of the Circuit Court, failing to give which, he was remanded to jail.

We should not wonder, adds the reporter, if this gentleman does not do the State some service yet, in which reflection we concur.

THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE are constantly increasing in number, and we know of no other reason than that the old "topers" have been using the "Great General Restorative," which creates a dislike for the use of liquors, and caused them to "jine." For sale by POLICE ITEMS.

—Yesterday was a working day with the Commissioners—there having been no Court since Friday there were the dockets of three days to dispose of.

—In the First District thirty-five cases were tried, $159 assessed, and $104 50 collected in fines.

—In the Second District twenty-two cases were tried, $80 assessed, and $10 collected in fines.

—William Wrenn, accused of having murdered a man some time ago in Clarendon, Ark., and who has been for some time past in the Second District prison, was sent for under a requisition from the Arkansas authorities yesterday. He leaves this evening under escort of two Deputy Sheriffs, for Clarendon.

—Henry Schroeder, who killed Deputy Constable Wm. Jerricho on Friday last, was brought before 'Squire Kiernan yesterday at 9½ o'clock. He was present with his Attorney, John Bullock, Esq., and the State was represented by the Attorney General. By an agreement between the Attorneys, it was arranged that Schroeder be released on $4000 bonds, to appear from day to day, until such time as the Grand Jury shall take cognizance of the affair. This is certainly a curious proceeding, and looks mighty queer to outsiders.

—Ed O'Neal was yesterday brought before 'Squire Kiernan on a warrant, charged with shooting J. A. Gregery with intent to kill, on Sunday, and on hearing the evidence, the 'Squire very promptly discharged him. The facts of the case were given in detail in yesterday's APPEAL.

—Elizabeth Kimbol had Fred Brown arrested yesterday and brought before 'Squire Kiernan on a charge of burglariously entering her house. The case will be heard this morning.

—Theodore John alleges that he has cause to fear that John Martmiller will do him some grievous bodily injury or burn his house, and consequently he got out a warrant for Martmiller's arrest yesterday. 'Squire Griffith bound John over in the sum of $500 to keep the peace toward Theodore.

—Harvey Hoxly, a soldier, while full of the "fourth of July," stole a watch from A. Montrand on Saturday. The case comes up before 'Squire Griffith today. Harvey not having $1000 bonds at the preliminary examination, is meanwhile in jail.

—W. J. P. Doyle, Esq., of the house of Harris & Cochran, who has been absent on a tour through Europe has returned, and we were pleased to meet him again yesterday at his accustomed place. —Capt. Black, of the firm of Black, Camron & Co., is also at home again after a business visit to the upper country.

—Our friend Clark, of the commission house of Clark & Smith, has returned from a trip to the interior. He speaks in gloomy terms of the coming crops.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

LOUISVILLE, July 6.—The river is stationary, with four feet two inches in the canal.

EVANSVILLE, July 6.—The river fell one inch to-day.

Passed up—Louisiana.

MEMPHIS, July 7.

We had another shower of rain with wind yesterday. The river is falling slowly at this point, and is now lower than at any time this season. There has been a rise in the Arkansas. By a dispatch from Capt. Adams we learn that it rose 12 inches at Little Rock, and was again falling yesterday—having declined 5 inches at the hour the dispatch was sent. White river is falling, with 6 feet to Augusta, but a 3 foot rise was reported coming out of Little Red when the Commercial came out.

Arrivals.

Steamer Westmoreland, New Orleans.
" Bismarck, St. Louis.
" R. E. Lee, New Orleans.
" Commercial, White river.

Departures.

Steamer Westmoreland, Cincinnati.
" Bismarck, New Orleans.
" R. E. Lee, Cairo.
" City of Cairo, St. Louis.
" W. A. Caldwell, Ark. river.

In Port.

M. Hambleton, Commercial, Clifton.

MISCELLANEOUS.

We are compelled to curtail our river news to-day, to make room for the proceedings of the New York Convention. Presidents are only made once in four years, and as the nominee at New York will assuredly become Chief Magistrate, we hope our river friends will be consoled for the lack of river matter to-day.

The R. E. Lee passed up yesterday at an early hour. She had a splendid trip of people, as well as 600 head of cattle. She lays up at Cairo. Our readers need not be surprised to learn that Capt. Wm. Thompson may take charge of the Lee at no distant day.

The Caldwell got away for the Arkansas last night, with a light trip of freight, but a fair passenger list.

The Commercial, Capt. Ashford, leaves to-day for White river. Charley Smithers is clerk.

The Mollie Hambleton, Capt. Bowman, with Paine, Clark and Shell at the desk, leaves this morning for the St. Francis.

The Ozark, Capt. E. C. Morton, leaves on Thursday for the Arkansas.

The Marble City, Capt. Conway, is the Thursday packet for Cairo and St. Louis.

The Clifton, Capt. Stein, backs out on Wednesday for Cairo and Cincinnati. Mr. Hunter is her chief clerk.

The towboat Alps passed up yesterday.

We learn that the Richmond is badly "hogged" amidships.

Capt. C. W. Norton is getting a new steamer ready to run between Montgomery and New Orleans.

The repairs to the Fort Smith, at Little Rock, are about completed, and she will resume her place in the Arkansas trade in a few days.

The Dexter left New Orleans last night.

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the forty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpracticed and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Bass richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY PPEAL, MEMPHIS, July 6, 1868.

The past week has been a quiet one in local finances. Collections on the 1st and 4th were rather more satisfactory than was anticipated, but the amounts as a general thing were small. We have nothing of interest to note in stocks or bonds during the week. The demand continues active, but there is none offering. We quote nominally as follows: Memphis and Charleston Railroad stock 56c. Mississippi and Tennessee, 1st mortgage 50c; 2d do, 33 to 35c. Memphis & Ohio Railroad stock, 10c; 1st mortgage 10s, 30s; 2d do 6s, 20c. Mississippi Central, 1st mortgage, 58c; 2d do, 40 to 42c. Memphis and Little Rock bonds, 42 to 44c; do Navy bonds, 51 to 52c. Parties who left this city in the interest of the latter road, to lay the matter of its vast importance to the people of Arkansas before the Legislature of that State, have returned satisfied that the present Governor (Clayton) is working in the interest of Gen. Brayman and the Fulton and Cairo road. The members of the Legislature are, it seems, awake to the interests of Little Rock and the speedy completion of a road to that point, and would lend the aid of the State in pushing the Memphis and Little Rock road through, but the Governor utterly refuses to sign any bill giving assistance to other than the project to which he is pledged body and soul, i. e. the road named above.

Gold opened in New York at 140¼c and closed at the same. Dealers in our market buy at 139 and sell at 140 to 140¼c.

The following are the New York quotations on Governments: Coupons, '81, 12½; do '62, 13½; do '64, none; '65, 11½; do new issue, 8½; do '67, 8½; 10-40s, 7; 7-30s, 2d and 3d, 8½; government bonds, dull. Old Tennessees, 72½; new, 71½.

Eastern Exchange is quiet and rates are steady at last week's quotations. Occasional shipments of currency are reported somewhat in excess over those of last week, but the aggregate wants of our peoples in this way is not large.

City Scrip is in light demand. We quote at 75 to 76c buying. Selling at 78 to 80c. Bonds are in demand at 56c, with no offerings.

There was considerable activity in County Warrants during the day. Tax payers were anxious to secure the right sized pieces to liquidate dues to the county before the Collector's office closed, as to-day was the last day of grace. Sales to a considerable amount were reported. Buying at 60c and selling at 65c.

Police Scrip is dull, with no buyers among brokers, except in a small way at 75 to 76c. Selling at 80 to 82c.

We have the following sales of Land Warrants to report:

1 acre warrant
18 80 "	"	each	$ 43 00
12 120 "	"	"	87 00
7 100 "	"	"	120 00

In another column will be found the Quarterly statement of the First National Bank. It will be seen that this institution enters into the last half of the year with a great deal of strength. A semi-annual dividend of 8 per cent will be entered up to the credit of stockholders to-morrow.

The cotton market for the week has been rather quiet. In Liverpool, on Tuesday last, uplands were quoted at 11¼d, Orleans 11¼d, while in New York on that day 31c was the quotation on middlings. On Wednesday the Liverpool market declined ¼d, while the New York market, which opened weak, became firmer, owing to the scarcity of high grades, and middlings advanced on to 32c. There was no change on Thursday or Friday, while Saturday being the "nation's birthday," all business was suspended. To-day in Liverpool, cotton opened firm, uplands 11¼d, Orleans 11½d. At noon the market was buoyant, uplands 11½ to 11¾d, Orleans 11½ to 11¾d, and at the close was unchanged. Sales, 15,000 bales.

In New York at the opening cotton was quiet but steady, low middlings 32½c, Orleans 32½c, good middlings 33½c. At noon the demand was good and prices tending upwards, and at 1 p.m. there was a good speculative demand and prices higher, low middlings 31c, middlings 32½ to 33c, Orleans 33½c, good middlings 33¾c. At the close the market was quiet but steady, middlings 33c, good middlings 34c, other grades unchanged. Sales, 2000 bales.

Our market has been quiet. The only interest we now take in the market is for others. The stock at this port has become so light that all put together would not make a respectable before breakfast purchase a few weeks ago. Holders ask 31c for Middlings, with no sales except of an occasional bale or two. The Liverpool cotton statement for the week ending Friday last was as follows:

Sales 56,000 bales, of which 7000 were to exporters and 4000 to speculators; stock 603,000, of which 353,000 are American; stock afloat, 600,000, of which 36,000 are American. Compared with the last weekly statement, this shows a decrease of 7000 in sales to exporters, 5000 less to speculators, or a grand decrease of 12,000 bales; decrease in stock 4000 bales; decrease in American, 14,000 bales; increase in amount afloat, 70,000 bales; decrease in American afloat 3000 bales.

Sales in New York for the week ending Saturday 4th, 4880 bales; week's receipts at all U. S. ports, 2425 bales; shipments from Bombay to the 23d ult. since last report 34,000 bales.

Wholesale Market.

The general markets for the week have been somewhat more active, owing to the crowding of six days business into five. There has, however, been so much interest taken in political matters and the great question as to "who would be nominated?" has diverted attention to no small extent from almost all other affairs. Wheat comes in steadily, and remains firm at last week's quotations. In addition to the Poplar street mills we will have the city mills at work within the next few days. These mills have been leased by Mr. A. L. Harris, of the firm of Harris & Cochran, and are being put in better order than they ever were. Their capacity amounts to 125 barrels daily, and as the lessee intends running them throughout the season, and will pay the very highest market price for wheat, we may look for even more competition than at present exists. Most of the grain now coming in finds ready sale in our market where prices are better than at Nashville, Louisville, or even St. Louis. 200 bushels of inferior sold to-day at $1 50. Two or three lots of No. 2 brought prices ranging from $1 70 to 1 80, and a lot of prime No. 1 sold at $2.

The provision market has been moderately active, though meats have declined since our last, and are still weak at our quotations. The flour market is very dull and prices are unsettled.

The dry goods market has been rather quiet during the week, but on the whole showed some improvement over the trade of last week. Brown cottons are higher by ⅛c per yard, but other styles of goods remain about as they were. The New York market for the week has been characterized by increased activity, especially for unbleached and bleached muslins, and prices have advanced from one-half to one cent per yard, the advance being most noticeable in the finer grades of brown, the stock of which has become reduced and concentrated; but the market otherwise is dull and depressed enough, as might have been expected at this advanced period. This improvement in prices of plain cottons, however, is partly attributable to a speculative movement on the part of some leading buyers in anticipation of their future wants, and to the stoppage of the mills to some extent.

In boots and shoes prices remain the same. Firmness, however, characterized the market and the new stocks which will soon arrive for the fall trade will have to be sold at an advance over present quotations. Several of our heavy lessees anticipating the advance, have already left to lay in their supplies, and we think it would be good policy in country buyers to make up their stocks as early as possible.

The grocery market has shown no change worthy of note. Prices are firm and the trade doing is of a light but steady kind. Apples, potatoes and vegetables of various kinds are very plentiful. Apples and pears are bought for shipment, and, when picked, are taken readily at our outside quotations. Potatoes are rather dull, as the shipping demand has fallen off.

The feed market is quiet, with no demand, except for local purposes.

The stock market is dull. All kinds of stock are in excess of the demand and prices are irregular. Sheep are especially dull, with quotations hard to realize of lots of any size.

There is no demand for whisky. The reduction in the tax to fifty cents per gallon, which is now almost a fixed fact, (having passed the House and is only awaiting the action of the Senate,) has caused a very great falling off in the demand, and prices are so unsettled that our quotations must be looked upon as nominal.
